Class Room Units Proposed To Ease Crowded Schools

A recommendation that one two-room Armco Steelox-type classroom units be put up at the Sunnyside School and another at the Eastside School to relieve some of the overcrowding is to be made to the citizens committee by its subcommittee at a special meeting in the high school library Thursday night.

This was the conclusion of the subcommittee after going over the school congestion problem again with the school board Tuesday night.

A formal recommendation was drafted at the end of the close of the two-hour session. It is to be presented to the citizens committee.

The recommendation is to be prefaced by the subcommittee's conviction that additional classroom space for pupils is a definite need now and the cost of the $1-250,000 building program recommended by Bureau of Educational Research of Ohio State University is "prohibitive at this time."

Against this background, the subcommittee unanimously favored the self-contained class room units for both Eastside and Sunnyside schools.

Cost About $45,000

The subcommittee also is to recommend that, if the citizens committee follows its recommendation, the cost of the two new units be covered by a $45,000 bond issue to be submitted to the voters at the November 6 election.

The subcommittee and the school board were given descriptions and cost estimates by M. R. Paul and John Howard, Armco representatives.

Paul said that the units, complete with everything from heating system (connected to the boilers of the present building) to Venetian blinds would be approximately $37,738. The only cost (Please turn to Page Nine)

REDS CLOG TREATY MEET

Truman's Hat Tossed in Ring For 1952, Belief

President Reveals, Too, U. S. Developing Terrible Weapons

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5—(AP)—President Truman appeared today to have hit the re-election campaign trail with a 1952 platform virtually written.

He did everything but formally announce his candidacy at a Democratic rally here where he called his opponents names ranging from "special privilege boys" to "economic fossils."

And he constructed his 1952 platform under the familiar "Fair Deal" banner as he predicted "we are going to elect a president next year."

He didn't say it would be Harry S. Truman, but the way the Democrats stood up and cheered—and his own obvious relish of the applause—made things pretty clear to those around.

Mr. Truman headed for his home in the midwest after a couple of San Francisco speeches, in which the off-the-cuff political talk at a party luncheon created more excitement than his major foreign policy address opening the Japanese peace treaty conference last night.

The White House plane, the "Independence" was ready to take him to Jackson County, Mo., where he started on the road to the presidency. Takeoff time was set at 7 A. M. (9 A. M., EST), which should put him in the Kansas City municipal airport at 2 P. M. (EST) for a visit expected to last throughout the week.

Hat in the Ring?

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.), who was among those cheering the president on at the luncheon speech, told a reporter, with obvious satisfaction:

"I thought he threw his hat into the ring."

And that was what just about everybody else among the upwards of 750 others at the luncheon thought, too.

The president's campaign-like talk appeared to be as much of a bomb-shell to the party workers as his assertion that new weapons are being developed which would destroy civilization in the event of another all-out war.

"It is fantastic what can happen with the use of new weapons that are now under construction in this country, not only the one which we all fear the most, but there are some weapons which are fantastic in their operation."

The president didn't disclose what weapons he had in mind, but he left no doubt about the weapons he will hurl against the Republicans in 1952.

'Give 'Em Hell' Tactics

Memories of his "give 'em hell" campaign in 1948 were stirred by the president's assertion:

"The Democratic party has a duty to the country, and if I am not badly mistaken the Democratic party is going to keep right on carrying out that duty."

"Next year, 1952"—the president got no further. His audience arose, cheering in campaign fashion as though the election were just around the corner. When the applause subsided, the president told them, "you interrupted me," but he looked happy about it and his grin spread to unusual proportions.

"We are going to elect a president next year, and that means that we are going to have the opportunity to see that this country stays in the right path," Mr. Truman said.

Everybody laughed when he added later:

"I don't know who the Democrats will elect."

Korea Fighting Bitter While Truce Stalled

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 5—(AP)—U. S. Second Division Infantrymen smashed their way to the top of a bloody ridge in east Korea today. They were locked in bitter battles for three other heights.

Second Division troops drove through heavy Red resistance and captured the hill mass north of Yanggu. Then they pressed forward to assault another height just to the north. Reds, dug se-curly into crags and ridges, checked the American drive.

In the same sector other Second Division soldiers were locked in a heavy day-long fight with Communists atop two towering crests. The Americans have been trying to knock the Reds off these crests for a week. The Communists have withstood daily infantry assaults and continuous artillery bombardment.

The Second Division action, in the center of a limited United Nations offensive, was the only significant engagement on the front Wednesday. Yanggu, at the eastern end of Hawchon reservoir, is seven miles north of the 38th Parallel. Censors would not permit correspondents to say how much farther north the battle line is.

To the east of the Second Division, entrenched Reds stopped South Korean marines trying to push out west of the punch bowl. Other South Korean marines patrolled far north of the bowl, roughly 20 miles north of the Parallel and 20 miles from the east coast.

North Korean Reds attacked three points on a ridge line dominating the valley. The attacks began before midnight and continued four hours. The Communists finally pulled back. They still hold some parts of the ridge-line.

SILENCE VEILS TRUCE

TOKYO, Sept. 5—(AP)—For the first time in days no notes were exchanged today between the United Nations command and Communists on the suspended Korean war cease-fire talks.

Even the Red radios, usually loaded with accusations and denunciations of the Allies, were comparatively quiet.

It was believed Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN commander, had completed a message he is due to send top Red commanders. It will reply to North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Tehuai. Sunday they demanded Ridgway either stop "insulting provocations" in the Kaesong neutral zone of Korea, where the negotiations were held, or call them off.

There was no hint of what Ridgway would say.

Rumors persisted the UN commander might propose the conferences be resumed at a new location. These recurrent stories say he would propose an incident-proof site. Official efforts have failed to squelch the persistent rumors.

Ridgway originally proposed truce talks be held on the Danish hospital ship Jutulandia off besieged Wonsan on the Korean east coast. The Reds suggested Kaesong, in territory they hold in South Korea.

Every break in truce negotiations has resulted from an incident—real or manufactured. The Reds broke off talks Aug. 23, charging a UN plane bombed the Kaesong armistice site. The UN said the Reds manufactured the incident. The Communists subsequently have charged numerous other violations. The Allies have rejected every complaint.

Ridgway's reply to Kim and Peng presumably was being cleared by the joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

It was not announced when it was to be delivered.

Drifting Sailors Rescued from Sea

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 5—(AP)—Two Portuguese who set out for America in a small boat were brought ashore yesterday after spending 27 days at sea—the last four without food or water.

A steamship, the SS Oscar Chapelle, found them drifting helplessly after a storm had broken their jib and mainmast.

The Chapelle brought them to Galveston yesterday. The immigration service placed them in jail pending a hearing.

The two adventures are Victor Manuel Castano, 23, and Evaristo Dasilva Gaspar, 27, from Ponta Delgada, the Azores.

Soviet Tactics For Obstruction Come Out Early

Japan Restoration Cluttered by Red Efforts for China

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5—(AP)—Russia blocked immediate adoption of British-American rules for control of the Japanese peace conference today and protested Red China's absence from the meeting.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko proposed that Communist Chinese representatives be invited to the sessions. He was promptly ruled out of order by Secretary of State Acheson, acting as temporary president and presiding officer. There was an outburst of applause.

Gromyko rose to speak after introduction of the British-American rules, designed to prevent Russia from filibustering the conference or altering the treaty. Sir Carl Berendsen of New Zealand had moved that the rules be adopted.

Berendsen got an immediate second from Oscar Gans of China.

Acheson's ruling that Gromyko's proposal to include Red China was out of order immediately drew an objection from Gromyko, who said the ruling was wrong and that the matter should be decided by the whole group of 51 nations gathered here to discuss peace making with Japan.

Acheson called for a vote of the conference on his ruling. Gromyko objected to this "officially and formally," saying there must be a decision on Chinese Red representation "by the conference itself."

Czechoslovakia and Poland, the only other Communist governments here, backed up the Soviet position.

Debate broke out in the first business session of the conference. It began at 10:00 A. M., after President Truman, opening the conference formally last night, challenged the Soviets to make good on their talk of peace by signing the treaty.

"The treaty now before us offers more than talk of peace," Mr. Truman said emphatically. "It offers action for peace. This conference will show, therefore, who seeks to make peace and who seeks to prevent it; who wishes to put an end to war, and who wishes to continue it."

For the remaking of Japan he paid tribute to the "outstanding leadership" of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whom he ousted as occupation and Far Eastern commander last April over Korean issues, and to MacArthur's successor, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. Both names were greeted with loud applause.

Mr. Truman also paid tribute to John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser in the State Department, Gromyko, who had joined briefly in the swelling applause of historic assemblage when Mr. Truman rose to speak, sat with folded hands throughout the talk. Later he told reporters he had no comment.

Still later at an American reception for all the delegates, the Soviet deputy foreign minister shook hands with the American president and spoke briefly with some of the diplomats present.

To one of these, Kenneth Younger of Britain, he expressed the belief that the conference will last a month.

"After all," he told Younger, "time isn't the most important thing."

Under British and American plans the conference should end Saturday with the signing of the treaty by all but a few of the 52 delegations present. Privately, members of both delegations say Russian tactics may force it to run over into next week.

Two Ohioans Killed In Indiana Crash

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Sept. 5—(AP)—Theodore F. Rittenour, 19, and Marilyn Rittenour, 24, of Chillicothe, O., were killed here yesterday in a two-car accident.

Everett Rittenour, their father, is a past president of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

The brother and sister were killed in a head-on collision two miles west of Plymouth. Marilyn was a student at Purdue University, and Theodore attended Ohio Wesleyan.

Injured in the crash were Charles Rains, 19, his wife, Christine, 19, and their two-month old son, all of Plymouth.

New Hurricane Losing Steam

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 5—(AP)—The tropical storm in the Caribbean Sea, with much of the steam gone from its punches, traveled westward over open waters today after bypassing fearful Jamaica.

It had threatened to smack the already hurricane-ravaged British island with 100-mile-an-hour winds but it veered southward just in time. Kingston, the Jamaican capital, felt only light rain squalls.

As the storm turned to spare Jamaica, it lost a great deal of its force. Highest winds dropped to 60 miles an hour.

The Miami weather bureau in an advisory issued at 5 A. M. (EST) placed the center of the ill-defined and weakened disturbance at 200 miles southwest of Kingston.

Doyle Flunks Out Of OSU Football

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5—(AP)—Ohio State University today announced that Richard (Skip) Doyle of Rochester, Pa., is ineligible for the 1951 football season.

Doyle, a 21-year-old senior and brother of All-America Vic Janowicz, flunked a history course during summer school.

The Pennsylvania lad had been counted on to be first-team fullback, although for two years he has been playing second-string left halfback. Much of last season was spent on the junior varsity.

Coach Woody Hayes, who wants to feature a wide-open passing offense this fall, planned to use Doyle, a passer, at fullback. That would have given him three passers in his starting backfield, including Janowicz and quarterback Tony Curello.

Tax on Gambling Voted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—The Senate finance committee today voted for a tax on gambling estimated to raise $400,000,000 a year. The action completed major committee work on a $6,000,000,000 tax bill.

Boy Stabs Playmate; Patience Exhausted

BRISTOL, Tenn., Sept. 5—(AP)—"He had been spitting on my little brother and had hit me with a sock book."

That, police said, is what 15-year-old Jasper Fritts told them when they asked him why he stabbed his playmate, Billy Joe Cox, 14, to death at a church tent meeting near here last night.

Sheriff A. H. Hurd said he would charge the boy with murder.

Unique Extortion Racket Yields $3,000

Kid Gang Cashes in on Love of Cats

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 5—(AP)—A gang of juveniles used an aged woman's love of cats to bilk her of between $2,000 and $3,000 in less than a year's time.

Police yesterday revealed they had broken the unique extortion racket of 11 children, aged 9 to 16. Crime Prevention Detectives E. E. Kirkland and Leo Horton said the amazing story started last Halloween night when Mrs. Annella Edmonds, 76, saw three boys throwing rocks at a cat.

The detectives said Mrs. Edmonds rebuked the boys for being cruel. Then to persuade the lads not to torture the animals any more, she gave them each a $1.

Next day the boys again managed to throw stones at a cat near Mrs. Edmonds' house. Again they were given a cash reward to leave the animals alone.

The word spread to other boys. Soon they were bringing cats to Mrs. Edmonds and threatening to torture them unless she bought the animals at $3 each. Mrs. Edmonds bought the cats.

Almost every day she bought cats, and the detectives said a 13-year-old boy soon became the "brains" for the group.

The boys told the detectives they had gotten from $2,000 to $3,000 from Mrs. Edmonds in ten months.

The gang leader thought of "refinements" to get money. He called and told Mrs. Edmonds he had found a cat with a broken back but needed money to take it to a veterinarian. She gave him $10.

A surprisingly number of "injured" cats were found near the home of Mrs. Edmonds. Police started an investigation last Friday after receiving a call from Mrs. Edmonds' maid.

The 11 boys were arrested over the week-end.

Domestic Use Of Metal Cut

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—The government today cut still further its allowances of three vital metals—steel, copper and aluminum—for use in making ordinary consumer goods. The new cuts become effective Oct. 1.

An order from the National Production Administration (NPA) directs that manufacturers of such goods must limit their steel use to 58 percent of the pre-Korean war level. This compares with a 70 percent limit now for household appliances and 65 percent for automobiles.

Copper use was ordered cut from 60 to 54 percent, and aluminum from 50 to 46 percent.

Manly Fleischmann, NPA administrator, said if the copper strike continues there will have to be further cuts in output of passenger automobiles, radios, washing machines and other consumer items.

Extortionist Caught in Act

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5—(AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, using "walkie-talkies" and radio-equipped automobiles as a means of communicating with each other, last night seized a 23-year-old college student on a charge of extortion.

The young man, listed as Robert Sprague of Cincinnati, was arrested on a lonely road near here, as he drove up to pick up two packages which were supposed to have contained $5,000 each.

A. E. Ostholthoff, agent in charge of the FBI, said Sprague admitted having sent threatening letters and making threatening telephone calls to Elmer Clark of Silverton and Louis Moorman of Cincinnati. He said similar letters also were sent to other Cincinnatians.

Seven Meet Death In Bomber Crash

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho, Sept. 5—(AP)—A B-29 bomber crashed and exploded shortly after taking off last night, killing the seven men aboard.

The plane crashed one-fourth mile from a runway at the Mountain Home Air Base.

Base officials said all the victims were stationed at the air base. The plane was on a routine training flight.

Names were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The big bomber exploded on impact. Lt. W. D. Gannon, base public information officer, said the plane disintegrated, throwing wreckage for hundreds of yards over the sagebrush covered terrain adjacent to the military air transport service base.

Boy, 13, Being Held After Fatal Shooting

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 5—(AP)—An argument over an unlocked door to a chicken yard -- an older boy pointing an "unloaded shotgun" -- a sudden blast when the trigger is pulled --

They added up to the death yesterday of seven-year-old James Meadows and the arrest of his 13-year-old uncle, Howard Carr, Sheriff Burl Justice reported. Howard is being held without charge.

The argument started when the chickens escaped. Howard accused James of unlocking the gate and went to the barn for the shotgun. He pumped five shells out of the chamber, and thinking he had emptied the gun, pulled the trigger.

Sheriff Justice said Howard apparently forgot about the shell in the breach. The charge struck James in the upper abdomen. He was dead on arrival at Portsmouth Hospital.

Author Adamic Killed by Reds Former Communist Believes

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5—(AP)—Louis P. Budenz, one-time Communist editor and leader, said today he believes it is "quite likely" author Louis Adamic was slain by Soviet underground agents.

Budenz is a former editor of the Daily Worker, New York newspaper which is the official organ of the Communist party in the United States. He turned against the Communists years ago, and since has testified before congressional committees and written and spoken extensively on Communist activities.

Adamic was found dead of a gunshot wound in his burning home near Flemington, N. J., yesterday. Local authorities listed the death as suicide but invited the FBI to investigate the possibility that the 52-year-old Yugoslav-born author had been slain by Leftists.

Budenz, now a professor at Fordham University, spoke from (Please turn to Page Two)

Chest Agencies Are Approved

Social Planning Committee Meets

Members of the social planning committee of the Fayette County Community Chest approved the participation of nine agencies in the benefits of the Chest at a meeting held Tuesday night.

The agencies included the following: Salvation Army, Fayette County Mental Health Association, YWCA Y-Teen group, 4-H camp, Boy Scouts, Fayette County Ministerial Association, Camp Fire Girls, Community Activity Fund and United Defense Fund.

Approval of the social planning committee was only one step before the agencies are authorized to participate in the Chest benefits.

Next the agencies must be approved by the budget committee and then by the board of directors.

Chairman of the social planning committee is Dewey Sheidler. Joe Peters is the chairman of the budget committee while Robert Brubaker is the president of the Community Chest.

Those present at the meeting Tuesday night were as follows: Mrs. Marie Williams, Margaret Gibson, George Inskeep, Allen White, Mrs. Donald Murdock, Rev. Francis McCarty, Brubaker, and Perse Harlow, executive secretary.

Several of the members of the social planning committee were unable to attend, but all not there sent in written reports.

his home in Crestwood, Westchester County, N. Y.

He was told the investigation at Flemington had raised the possibility of murder.

"Well, it could easily be," Budenz was quoted by the Bulletin as replying.

"I think it's quite likely that that's taken place. But the apparatus would go into action only against someone who, it was thought, was about, wittingly or perhaps unwittingly, to expose something that had been a closely guarded secret."

Adamic had been writing a book on Marshal Tito, the Yugoslav Communist chief, and his break with the Russian Communists.

"He may, in trying to explain Tito, have been on the verge of some disclosure," the Bulletin quoted Budenz as saying.

"On that basis I think it's not unlikely that he was killed, but it's not likely that a book in itself would have been the reason."

Budenz concluded the interview with this remark:
"I hope the local police will not be deceived. If it's a Soviet secret police job, it will have been very skillfully done. They're very skillful at making things look like accidents."

Bowersville Woman Found Shot to Death

Miss Shirley Maxine Pendry, 23, was found dead of a bullet wound in an old building on her father's farm near Bowersville Tuesday. Her death was called a suicide.

Indications were, it was said, that she had shot herself some time Sunday.

She made her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Traverse Pendry, and her brother, Neil Pendry.

When Miss Pendry did not come home Sunday night, a search was started throughout the community.

Her body was found in the abandoned barn by her father and brother.

There was no explanation for Miss Pendry's act. Her family and friends said she had appeared in her usual good health and good spirits when she left.

Investigation was up to Greene County authorities.

Funeral services are to be held at the Powers Funeral Home in Jamestown at 2 P. M. Thursday. Rev. George Groh, pastor of the Methodist Church, of which she was a member, is to conduct the services.

Interment is to be in the Bowersville Cemetery.

Jeff Lions See Volcano Pictures

Members of the Jeffersonville Lions Club Tuesday night were taken on a picture tour of the roaring volcanic regions of Mexico during the recent holocaust which destroyed several lives there.

George Combs, who is employed at Wright-Patterson Field, showed moving pictures of the volcanic eruption which were taken by the air force.

There were 20 members on hand to see the movies and to enjoy a birthday party held for Ellsworth Vannorsdall, Eldon Long and Carl Stokhouse who have birthdays this month. Long was unable to be present for the party, however.

A birthday cake was served to the members of the club after they had enjoyed a fried chicken dinner. The meeting was held in the community meeting room in the township hall.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 5—(P)—Automobile shares sparked a mild rally today in the stock market and brought prices up moderately.

Buying came into the motor division in midmorning, evidently in response to the prospect of a price increase under the sponsorship of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Steels and some rails joined in the higher movement, with more activity than average. Chemicals and oils, together with a long list of miscellaneous issues, posted higher prices but there was little trading interest shown. The cuts in steel allotments to production of durable consumer goods announced by the Defense Production Administration had little immediate impact on the market.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 5—(P)—A mixed market found wheat, soybeans and hard red winter wheat, oats and rye advanced on the Board of Trade today. There were some solid reasons behind this apparent confusion.

Clearing weather in parts of Canada, plus the lack of frost overnight, created some of the selling in wheat. Soybeans fell as the first car of new crop beans arrived.

Corn rallied following a private crop forecast that production prospects declined rather sharply over the past month, and that part of the crop west of the Mississippi was in danger of being damaged by an early frost. Oats, another feed grain, firmed with corn.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—The work of the Senate crime committee will have been a flash in the pan unless it's followed up on a permanent nationwide scale.

No one is optimistic enough to believe crime and corruption can be wiped out entirely, so long as men want money and don't care how they get it.

But both can be reduced by making them unhealthy and unprofitable. The committee, which went out of business Saturday, was set up to make a wide but brief investigation.

It didn't, and couldn't, stop crime by itself. It stopped some at least temporarily; it exposed some; it made a lot of people more conscious of what's happening, particularly in their own communities; and a few bigshots went to jail or were cited for contempt of Congress.

But anyone who has ever worked around a police station knows the reaction of crooks, gamblers, dope peddlers, prostitutes, and crooked cops and politicians every time an investigation starts.

Duck till the heat's off; it won't last. Most of the time it doesn't. And on a national scale the heat's off now, since the crime committee is out of existence.

The committee, recognizing the fact that there'll always be some crime and that it will get worse unless checked, made some suggestions before folding up.

First, it suggested that Congress create a permanent federal crime commission as a separate and independent government agency. This idea probably will get nowhere.

There's not much enthusiasm for it in Congress. Most crime is local and this kind of agency would be in a position to keep poking around in local affairs. Some congressmen wouldn't like that.

Besides, the justice department, which handles most federal crime cases, and the treasury department, responsible for narcotics control and income tax evasion, don't like the thought of a new federal crime agency spreading across their work.

The Senate committee suggested this federal crime agency some time ago. But the members of the committee probably realized it wouldn't get very far.

So in their final report, made public Friday, they made a couple of other suggestions:

They urged creation of crime commissions in states and cities on a wide scale. These would be local groups, dealing with their own individual local crime problems.

There were some crime commissions in existence before the Senate crime committee started its work. And others were established before the committee's work ended.

They are still only a handful. They are made of private citizens, are non-political, their job comes down to this: they study local crime conditions; cooperate with civic, educational and, "where possible," the report said, cooperate with local police; and they report to the public on what's happening in their community.

In addition, the Senate committee urged creation of a national crime coordinating council, to be made up of a few representatives from the local crime commissions.

Congress would give this council $100,000 to get started and after

Rainfall Here Below Normal

Only .87 of an Inch Falls in August

Rainfall in August was .242 inches below normal for the month and the average temperature was slightly above normal.

Total precipitation, according to the monthly summary made by U. S. Weather Observer Coyt A. Stookey, was only .87 of an inch. Normal is 3.29 inches for August.

Coming on the heels of a pronounced deficiency of rainfall in July, the scarcity of rain brought one of the most destructive summer droughts in years.

The average temperature for August was 72.39 degrees, compared with a normal of 72 degrees.

The mean maximum temperature was 86.03 degrees, and the mean minimum was 59.5 degrees.

Eight days had a temperature of 90 or above, with 95 registered on both the 14th and 15th. The low maximum was 76, and the low minimum was 48 on Aug. 26.

that it would be on its own, depending for funds upon charitable organizations and other groups.

Its job: make a continuing study of crime conditions throughout the country; help coordinate the work of the various local crime commissions; and act as a clearing house for information exchanged among those commissions.

Will these suggestions be carried out? Your guess is as good as mine.

Pfc. Calvin G. Miller was graduated this week from one of the air force communications schools at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Headquarters of the gigantic Air Training Command and home of one of the world's largest communications schools, Scott Field has trained Pfc. Miller and thousands of other officers and airmen in the installation and maintenance of electronic equipment used in today's global air force.

Pfc. Miller, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham L. Miller, of near Mt. Sterling, was graduated from high school in Madison Mills, and has been on active duty with the air force since November 24, 1950.

Prior to entertaining the Scott communications school, Pfc. Miller completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Missionary Will Deliver Address

Edna Hunt, missionary to India, will speak at the South Side

Church of Christ, Wednesday at 7:30 P. M.

Miss Hunt is associated with the Church of Christ Mission at Kulpahar in the united provinces of northern India, between Calcutta and Delhi.

The mission was reopened several years ago, and the Indian Bible college was founded to train native Indian evangelists to preach the gospel.

Miss Hunt is now on furlough to present the work and the needs of this field to the churches of America, while her seven co-workers carry on the work in India.

The South Side congregation presents a missionary program each month to keep the members informed of progress on the mission field, and whenever possible, attempts to have an active missionary bring the message from his particular field.

Northern Turnpike Route Is Adopted

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5—(AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission today adopted the proposed northern turnpike route as recommended by a consulting engineering firm, but turned down the plan for transposed traffic flow.

The commission also approved the use of Portland cement concrete for the pavement instead of asphalt. It rejected a plea by residents of the Maumee area that further consideration be given to changing the route of the turnpike there.

The commission also hired

Frank C. Dunbar, Jr., of Columbus, as its attorney to advise them on all legal matters including acquisition of right-of-ways.

Relief Problem Becoming Serious Question

The problem of relief is becoming a serious issue in nearly every locality.

Enough finances to take care of the many applications for public aid is bothering, not only relief directors, but also county commissioners and other officials who provide the money required.

In Fayette County the relief director reports that the demands for assistance have been less this summer than usual but that in winter time the requests for aid become so great that the utmost care must be used in trying to make what money is available stretch to the utmost.

In this city and county, and in other counties of small population, there is reported to be far less cases of "chiseling" than in many localities of greater population.

For example, in Fayette County, the relief director knows almost every case by careful investigation. Aid is extended only where it is needed. In many other places the reports of "chiseling" is based upon known cases where "little if any investigation" is made.

In the midst of general prosperity with job opportunities abundant, more than 5-500,000 are still carried on the public assistance rolls with relief expenditures topping $2,000,000,000 a year over the nation.

There is a growing belief that many persons are on the relief rolls who are not in genuine need of assistance. The Indiana legislature, disgusted with chiseling, enacted a law to publish names, addresses and amounts received of all persons getting aid. This is in non-conformity with New Deal law and Oscar Ewing, security administrator, has ruled that some $18,000,000 per year of federal aid must be cut off from Indiana.

Legislatures of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana and Oklahoma have petitioned Congress to repeal the law against printing relief names. The Senate has voted to do so but the House has not yet acted.

Many welfare program administrators claim publicity won't drive the cheaters off but will increase payments. One client would discover another is getting a bigger allotment and would demand more himself. Other citizens not on the rolls, seeing the payments to those who are, would want some of the gravy.

The aged and the dependent children on the rolls total one-third more than in 1940 and the public is paying more than twice as much as at the end of the war.

There is rapid increase in the number of aged. But why parents cannot support their children in a time of prosperity is a mystery. One answer may be that the cost of living has so discouraged many in the low income group that they'd rather get public assistance than work. A good many men are unemployed by employers seeking skills and vigor.

It is one of America's grave problems and will be difficult to solve so long as a certain type of person figures that getting a minimum living off the taxpayers is better than working.

Oil

With oil production in Iran shut down because the London labor government objects to nationalization when it is engaged in by other countries, the petroleum capital of the Far East has been shifted to Kuwait, a small sheikdom on the Persian coast about the size of a Texas cattle ranch. It covers 1,950 square miles and is inhabited by 100,000 Arabians, who, until now, made a precarious living raising sheep and horses.

Oil production has been stepped up to 600,000 barrels a day, making Kuwait the fourth largest producer in the world, trailing only the United States, Russia and Venezuela.

Operation Advised For Funnel Chest

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

There is a condition known as funnel chest, and it is more common than most people seem to realize.

This disorder, which has its beginning in early childhood or even infancy, was formerly believed to be due to rickets. Today, however, its cause is assigned to a disturbance of the action of the diaphragm, which is the muscular wall dividing the chest cavity from that of the abdomen.

This faulty action of the diaphragm causes the breast bone, cartilages, and ribs to be pulled inward. As the child grows, they become permanently fixed in this manner. The width of the chest is decreased, putting pressure upon the heart. The heart may even be pushed into an abnormal position. The large blood vessels and structures of the chest are crowded, the spine curved outward, and the abdomen becomes distended.

Heart Symptoms Late

Heart symptoms are rarely noted during infancy, but may be found if the heart lies just below the depression of the breast bone. The symptoms usually appear during the end of the second or third decades of life and cannot easily be remedied at that time.

Nearly three-fourths of the adults with this deformity have abnormal electrocardiograms (electrical tracings of the heart beat). The breathing capacity may be reduced to half that of normal. However, some adults may be helped by surgery if it is performed before the damage becomes too great.

Certain psychological problems may also develop in children with this deformity. Such children usually fear ridicule at showing their chests during recreation. Some adults even delay marriage because of the embarrassment of the deformity.

The problem of funnel chest in children may be satisfactorily solved by surgery. The operative scar is extremely small and of no psychological significance. After the age of twenty months, the deformity usually becomes more or less permanent.

Early Operation

Therefore, if possible, all cases should be operated on before the infant reaches that age. At that time of life, the operation is relatively simple and fully developed malformations may be prevented. The operation usually requires only from ten to twenty minutes and is done through an incision about two inches in length.

It is important for parents to be on the alert for this condition in their children, so that if present, it may be corrected early in order that no heart or psychological damage may occur later in life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. B.: I am 30 years old and have acute rheumatic fever. I always believed this was an ailment of childhood. Can adults be affected?

Answer: It is possible for adults to develop acute rheumatic fever.

U. S. army records show that one third of its officers and enlisted men are married and that the typical army family has one child.

Just Primary Lesson about War

NEW YORK —(P)— War is for people who don't know any better -- or who can't help themselves.

It interrupts or destroys the chief pleasure of this world -- which is to live happily.

War is the last resort of a nation that tells another nation it must have its way, by force if necessary.

The fact it also says its goal is peace is confusing. By peace it means, "I want my own way and my own system."

Wars, birthed by ambition or principle, have tended to end in the same way; they renew chaos instead of achieving order.

All leaders, dictatorial or democratic, throughout history have sent millions of men to bloody death on strange battlefields to win a victory by force of arms that can only be temporary.

How can war achieve permanency when it is most often merely hate against the foreigner? Rome finally killed Carthage and then Rome sickened and died. Why? She couldn't police her own great system.

The Romans spread a colossal net of awe for order that still afflicts us, their conquerors, after the Barbarian outbreaks of these many centuries. The passion for a pattern that the Romans set still endures.

And one who has a hopeful eye about the march of history cannot feel that the passage of 20 centuries has been less than a step toward a unified world. Hope is better than a timetable.

Napoleon and Hitler tried to achieve world unity by the direct assault of power. So had Alexander the Great. The British, a small people with a great mind, worked by the twin channels of prestige and strategic strength toward the same goal.

The muscle of America rules the world today except for the untested might of Russia. Not only the muscle of America but its dreams. Dreams can win, too.

What happens to the world in our time depends on whether America and Russia bump heads and heads in battle.

Will they?

By Hal Boyle

They sometime and somehow may probably have to do so, but I am optimistic enough to believe it won't be tomorrow.

As the world has shrunk, great nations have tended to fight each other just as small nations in Europe once could afford the luxury of enmity expressed in combat.

But this irresponsibility is dying...

Sometime some nation in the long story of mankind must pledge its money and men and minerals underground to something finer than either future profit or boyish restlessness -- the goal of eternal peace.

Men and nations often reach for power because they are neurotic. To control something else becomes their obsession because they cannot control themselves.

The third World War -- if it does come, and it will be an unnecessary war if it does happen -- probably will express the internal frustration of some ruling clique that will start a war rather than lose the grab it has.

But scientifically, war today is about as needful to the happiness of mankind as yellow fever.

By George Sokolsky

Nehru's Fallacy on Jap Treaty

While Soviet Russia will send a delegation to the San Francisco conference on the Japanese treaty, India will boycott the conference. Russia will use sabotage as a weapon; India uses the boycott. Russia will speak long and loud; India will give the identical impression by silence.

Both countries have the same aim and purpose, namely, to seal off Asia from the United States, to close the entire continent of Asia, if they can manage it by diplomacy, intrigue, revolution or war, from European and American commerce, credit and friendship.

The failure of the Harriman mission to Iran is part of the intrigue. The revolutionary movements in the Philippines, Burma and Malaya are phases of this program.

Nehru is a socialist and has always publicly regarded himself as such. We know from Professor Karl A. Wittfogel's testimony before the McCarran committee that in 1929 he attended a Russian-directed Communist conference at Frankfurt-am-Main. Most of those who attended were then Communists, although we may assume that some were invited for the impression that such a conference would make on them. We know from this little tale in a grand mosaic of intrigue that as early as 1929, Nehru had close relations with international Communism. From 1945 to this day, Nehru has in many official acts indicated that those relations still exist and are cordial.

Otto Friedmann, in his book, "The Break-Up of Czech Democracy," makes an interesting point which, while applied to Czechoslovakia, fits current India. He wrote:

"The philosophers of Czechoslovak democracy failed, because they believed that they could preserve the democracy and independence of their own country, whilst supporting, through their foreign policy and propaganda, the expansion of Soviet Communism in other countries..."

Precisely that has been Nehru's diplomacy. He has been trying to purchase the independence of his country from Soviet Russia by acting as Russia's agent in the conquest, by diplomacy, of other Asiatic countries. That game has brought no benefit anywhere in Europe: There is no reason to believe that it can succeed anywhere in Asia.

One reason that India, as many countries in eastern Europe, fears Soviet Russia but does not fear America, is that since Teheran (1943), this country has appeased Russia. Therefore, countries which joined up with us, as Nationalist China and Iran did, could not know at what point the United States would desert its friends, for the sake of appeasement, as Chiang Kai-Shek, as Singman Rhee, as the Shah of Persia have at times been deserted, even though eventually they may have been picked up again. Even our mixed and uncertain policy to Israel gives, to other countries, evidence of an undetermined policy, largely dominated by domestic considerations.

Sokolsky

Misconceptions About FBI Work Cleared Up Here

Agent D. W. Johnson
Speaks to Rotarians
At Meeting Here

D. W. Johnson, senior agent in charge of the Columbus office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), outlined the work of the FBI to members of the Rotary Club here Tuesday and discounted some widely held misconceptions of the organization.

Johnson, who has been a member of the FBI for the past 11 years, said that many people have a mistaken idea about the work of the organization.

He said he wanted to make it clear that the FBI merely reports the facts in loyalty probes but makes no recommendations. He debunked the idea that the FBI fires employees, pointing out that it is the head of the government agency who fires disloyal employees.

The speaker said the director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover, does not believe in a national police state.

He said Hoover was named head of the organization in 1924, and Hoover has emphasized that he wanted people to consider the agency's work of law enforcement as a profession which would command their respect and support.

The same year that he started with the FBI Hoover created the identification section, starting with 800,000 fingerprints and making it a clearing house for all law enforcement agencies in the country.

Fingerprints Easily Found

There are now 116,000,000 fingerprints on file. Of the total, 22,000,000 are of criminals. The remainder includes all the members of the armed forces, including civilian employees of the armed forces and fingerprints of all employees in industrial plants having contracts with the armed forces.

Johnson said that the system has been set up so that when prints are sent in replies are returned, often in a matter of hours.

In 1932, Hoover established a laboratory, which is the best of its kind in the world. There are 220 technicians who work in it. Its services are available to all law enforcement people, down to village marshals.

nists who were being held. Four of the 11 are still at large, however.

There are 53 FBI offices in the United States, Alaska and Puerto Rico, with agents scattered throughout the world.

Since 1947, the FBI has been making federal employee loyalty investigations and checking on applicants for federal positions.

Of all the cases, the FBI took to the federal courts last year, 97.2 percent of the defendants were convicted, and 92.1 percent of these pleaded guilty.

President Ed Moser made the response. Visiting Rotarians were: Guy Bonney of Springfield, H. Y. Tennenbaum, Rev. Cecil Fogle of Greenfield and Eugene Kidwell of London. Guests of members were Sheriff Orland Hays and W. T. Maxwell of Middletown.

president of the National Association for Mental Health. The waste is all the worse for coming when national emergency demands maximum productivity from the people, he added.

Steps to reduce this loss and tragedy, he said, are: More research on cause and treatment of psychological disorders; training of many more psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, and psychiatric social workers, nurses and aides; a wide network of local clinics for first aid treatment of mental and emotional breakdowns; an awakened public concern about mental illness.

Boards Plan For Election

Write-ins Allowed
In November

Boards of elections throughout Ohio are making plans to handle the November 6 election, and September 7 is the date when clerks mail armed service absentee ballots.

On September 15 judges and clerks of election are to be appointed. In this county most of them have been selected, it is understood.

By September 26 all proposed bond issues shall be filed with the board of elections.

For the coming election on the office-type ballot there will be no blank spaces provided for write-ins unless there is no candidate for the office, or not sufficient candidates for the number of offices to be filled.

Hence, if there is no candidate for an office one blank space shall be provided. If there are three offices on council to be filled and two candidates, one blank space shall be provided.

On the non-partisan ballot, there shall be as many blank spaces appearing under each office on the ballot as offices to be filled. Therefore, there will be at least one blank space provided for each office on the non-partisan ballot, and blank spaces equal in number to those to be filled.

The present statute on the non-partisan ballot (general code section 4785-101) makes no provision for write-ins, but the attorney general rules (1949 attorney general opinion no. 806) that such spaces should be provided.

Effective January 1, 1952, the provisions for both types of ballot will be uniform, and thereafter no blank spaces will be provided "except that if no candidate has been nominated for an office for which an election is to be held, blank spaces shall be provided under the title of said office equal in number to the number of persons to be elected to such office." (General code 4785-99 and 4785-101 as amended by the 99th General Assembly.)

There has been considerable

PX of Famous Old Outpost of Indian Days May Soon be Opened for Business Once More

Fort Laramie's decaying sutler's store—its entrance shored up (center).

By DICK HERMAN
Central Press Correspondent
FORT LARAMIE, Wyo.—Congress willin', the "PX" of the most important military post in the whole variegated history of the American west will be opened for business again next year.

It all depends upon more appropriations, says David Hieb, superintendent of the Fort Laramie National Monument.

Armed with an initial grant of $7,000, carpenters and laborers have been scratching their heads and working under the bright Wyoming sky here, trying to figure out the best way to retain the famous sutler's store—a low, crumbling building, the left wing of which was braced upward in 1849.

The store—squat and adobe against a backdrop of the ancient buffalo hills—probably is the oldest building in the old Indian territory. Only "Old Bedlam," renowned officers' club at the reservation can challenge it. Both were built about the same time.

Work has been going on at Laramie's PX for about a month. Original timbers are being utilized to brace weary walls—walls which sheltered eight different sutlers from the time of the building's inception to its abandonment by the Army in 1890.

A SUTLER—in case you didn't know—had a most vital role in frontier society. He was general store-keeper; more often, he was also banker, postmaster and saloonkeeper. Clearly, life on the plains would have been intolerable without the sutler.

It's been 12 years since the public has been permitted inside the store. "We've always been afraid the roof, which at one time was made of dirt, might collapse," Hieb says.

The $7,000 is being used to keep the building from further decay. More funds will be needed to restore the interior as it used to be "in them thar days," adds Hieb.

If and when the sutler's store project is completed, work will start on one of the other 21 remaining buildings at this wide spot in the American past which served as an oasis for pioneers traveling the Oregon, California and Mormon Trails.

Strategically situated just over a mile from the junction of the Laramie and North Platte rivers, the fort was begun in the hey-day of the fur traders in 1834. At various times it was known as Fort William and Fort John and had walls, both wooden and adobe.

However, the walls came down when the Army bought the post from the American Fur Co. in 1849 for $4,000. The adobe influence, according to Hieb, came from trappers of Taos, N. M., who traveled up this way with Kit Carson.

STRANGELY, Fort Laramie later had to withstand an Indian attack. The biggest scare came in 1851 when a Lieutenant Grattan, hot from West Point, lost his head and ordered killed an Indian who had stolen a cow. Brother Indians reciprocated by lifting the scalps of Grattan and his detachment of 30 men. This happened eight miles east of the fort.

In front of "Old Bedlam" is a concrete-and-bronze marker commemorating perhaps the most difficult of all great "rides" in United States annals.

On Christmas night, 1866, with the temperature standing at 25 degrees below zero, a bearded, half-frozen scout named John (Portugee) Phillips reeled from his saddle at Fort Laramie, ending a heroic 236-mile dash from Ft. Phil Kearney.

Four days before, a party of 80 soldiers under the command of Capt. W. J. Fetterman was annihilated by Sioux Indians led by Chief Red Cloud. Some 119 men, women and children were besieged at Fort Kearney, on the Bozeman trail near the Big Horn range.

In the face of 3,000 hostile Indians and a Wyoming blizzard, Phillips had galloped out of the embattled fort southeast to Ft. Laramie to seek help—a plea quickly answered.

Another story is that of Fallen Leaf, daughter of Chief Spotted Tail. Fallen Leaf visited the fort with her people in 1866. She was immediately attracted to the military—and vice-versa.

A YEAR later, Fallen Leaf died while her tribe was in the Powder River country. Fallen Leaf's dying wish was to be buried at Fort Laramie. Her father agreed to the request, as did the military authorities. After all, they reasoned, there was a chance to make faster friends with a powerful chief.

A pine coffin was prepared and raised on four great logs, in keeping with Sioux burial traditions. Episcopal services were read before the bowed heads of Yankee troops and Sioux braves. Ten years later, Spotted Tail, riding north from Cheyenne, quietly collected the remains of his beloved daughter and rode off.

Another woman who made news at Fort Laramie was Martha Canary, better known as Calamity Jane, whose exploits are familiar to all.

Great figures of the Old West once trod the street of Laramie—Scout Jim Bridger, Chief Sitting Bull, John Fremont, Buffalo Bill, Chief Crazy Horse and Wild Bill Hickok. Now their names are only echoes of the past.

All that remains of Ft. Laramie are 21 buildings, mostly in ruins, for Americans with a devoted interest in their nation's youth.

Wehrmacht Vets Decisive Factor In Germany Now

Rearmament Program For West Is Backed; Bitter Fight Brewing

By BRACK CURRY
BONN, GERMANY, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Many German veterans are throwing their weight behind German participation in the western defense system.

The attitude of former Wehrmacht men toward the creation of a new German military force has changed from "Ohne Uns" (without us) to "Nicht Ohne Uns" (not without us) and the veterans may be decisive in the political tug-of-war shaping up here this fall over the question of what contribution the Germans will make toward defending the West.

A slam bang battle is in prospect between the government forces led by aging Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the fiery Socialist chieftain Kurt Schumacher.

The government is counting on the veterans' support to ram through parliament approval of German rearment and membership in the Atlantic defense forces.

American officials here say German veterans' attitude toward rearment has undergone a radical change.

Only a year ago they were openly hostile to suggestions that they should take up arms again. Six months ago they were willing to rearment at a stiff price. Now veterans groups are rushing out pledges to join with the West in collective defense—and less is being said of what they "demand" first.

Attitude Described

One experienced official described the veterans' attitude toward rearment now as a reasonable "we're for it—let's discuss terms."

U. S. officials in close contact with veterans groups said they appear to fear they may miss the bus if Germany holds back on pledging aid.

"They feel that things are starting again and that the West may go ahead and organize without them," one official said.

Veterans leaders usually argue German rearment must be preceded by absolute political and military equality for Germany, restoration of the "honor" of German soldiers and freedom for Nazi war criminals.

American officials feel that none of these will block German rearment. They point out that the Germans already have been promised a measure of political equality by the occupation powers and Gen. Eisenhower has said he will have no mercenaries in his Atlantic pact forces.

These officials do not believe that the veterans—or German political leaders—will insist on the war criminal issue. They say that the West has no intention of "buying" German rearment by opening the jails where Nazi war criminals are now paying the price for murder and plunder.

'Bunch of Politicians'

Among veterans, especially the old professional officers, there is strong criticism of the Bonn government. They claim it's "just a bunch of politicians," who have collaborated with the victors and they complain of injustices to veterans on such matters as pensions.

But moderate officers like Gen. Hans Speidel and Gen. Adolf Heusinger -- Adenauer's military advisers -- are working closely and loyally with the government.

Many young Germans are writing their leaders that they want Germany to take its place in the western defense setup -- but they want no part of the old Prussian-type army.

Recently a group of German students who had visited U. S. army camps in America came back to Bonn and told government leaders.

"Give us training like the American soldiers get and we'll fight. Why, we saw army schools where privates can talk back to colonels. But we just won't take that old Prussian training where human dignity means nothing."

WHAT MATTERS

Death is so common any more... Each day is filled with tragic lore; Airplanes and trains and autos crash. Because their pilots are too rash; seems destruction is the goal. And junctive laws cannot control. The thoughtless, heedless, witless mind. That too all safety laws is blind.

What matters if the trains be late, Or some young swain has missed his date?

The pilot, chauffeur, engineer Should know for sure the way is clear. And keep within the legal speed. And to all warning signs give heed; Time is unending... only fools Will disregard the safety rules.

It's entirely too late When the train's off the track. Or the plane has been wrecked. Or the car's on its back; When a life is snuffed out, There is naught can restore. Or bring back the breath. To the body once more.

Farming Bonanza In Coastal Jungle

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Joe Senkyrik, a 41-year-old cotton and corn farmer near here, decided to look into assertions that the wilderness at Houston's front door was unbelievably fertile—if only it could be cleared for cultivation. Scientists at the University of Houston claimed the 4,000 square mile wilderness surrounding Houston is in a humid climate outside the Mississippi Delta, and potentially richer than the famous Delta.

Senkyrik bought a $17,000 Diesel tractor and started clearing a section of his land on the edge of the wilderness. His neighbors asked Senkyrik to do the same for them. Up to now, Senkyrik has cleared some 200 acres of his own jungle and even more for his neighbors. They predict the cleared land will produce per acre $100 worth of beef or more, $200 worth of cotton or $150 worth of corn.

Loans on Soybeans More Profitable

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Soybean producers in most years apparently could get more for their crop if they would store it instead of selling at harvest time, the Agriculture Department said today.

"In most years, soybean prices are seasonally low during harvest months," the department said in a report on soybeans marketing practices.

"Within a few months after harvest, the price ordinarily moves considerably higher, returning extra profits to farmers who stored."

"Soybean have followed this typical pattern every crop year since 1928 or earlier, except in the war years of price controls, 1942-46, and those of a declining general price level (1930, 1931, 1937 and 1948)." The study showed that most growers sell their crop at harvest time, with the heavy fall sales helping depress prices.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Yanks Take Lead As Indians Lose

New York Headman Waxes Optimistic

BY RALPH RODEN
(By The Associated Press)

"We're home now and that's where we win."

That's the opinion expressed today by Casey Stengel, shrewd manager of the New York Yankees, in talking of the stirring American League pennant race that finds his Yankees in first place by four percentage points over the Cleveland Indians.

The Yanks, who engage the ever-dangerous Boston Red Sox in the opener of a three-game series at the stadium tonight, backed into the lead yesterday as the Indians dropped a 3-1 decision in 11 innings to the Chicago White Sox in the only game played in either league.

Stengel admits the Red Sox, who meet the Yanks nine more times, are to be respected. However, Old Case said, "I'm certainly not afraid of them. I've said right along the Yankees were going to win and I have no reason to change my mind."

Vic Raschi (17-8) has been named by Stengel to face the Red Sox tonight before an expected 60,000 fans. Leo Kiely, (4-3) rookie lefthander, is Manager Steve O'Neill's choice to pitch the important opener at the stadium.

THE YANKEES HAVE won 42 and lost 15 games at home including four out of five wins from Boston. The Red Sox have won 34 and lost 31 away from home but boast a 43-20 record at Fenway Park, including eight straight over New York. The Yanks clash with the Red Sox at Boston in a three game series beginning Sept. 21.

While the Red Sox and Yankees tangle the Indians and the Detroit Tigers clash in Cleveland tonight in their last home game until the final two days of the season when they again meet the fifth place Tigers. The Indians are 51-23 at home, and 33-27 on foreign soil.

Bob Lemon of the Indians and Saul Rogovin of Chicago hooked up in a brilliant duel before 20,021 fans at Cleveland last night. Lemon allowed only three hits until the fatal eleventh. One of the blows was former Indian Ed Robinson's 25th homer in the sixth. Robinson's blow matched a fourth inning homer by Cleveland's Luke Easter. Nelson Fox opened the Chicago 11th with a double. Al Zarilla bunted Fox to third. Robinson was intentionally passed. At this point Bob Kennedy, rifle armed outfielder, replaced Barney McCosky in rightfield for the Indians but the move didn't pan out. Ray Coleman filed to Kennedy but Fox beat Bob's throw to the plate to break the tie. Robinson scampered to second on a wild pitch and scored the insurance run on a double by Jim Busby.

Sabina VFW Wins Tournament Game

WILMINGTON, Sept. 5—(AP)—Sabina VFW blanked Duff's Cafe of Middletown, 1-0, last night in the Wilmington double elimination softball tournament.

Harshmanville Merchants of Dayton, were eliminated, 5-1, by Buck and Reds of Greenfield in another game.

In a third contest, Butt's Construction Co. of Chillicothe outlasted Dayton Burger Beer 3-2 in 10 innings. A double by Harold Stoute followed by Taylor's single brought in the winning run for Chillicothe.

Neff, the winning hurler, struck out 19 men and allowed only five hits.

In games tonight, Curly's Trailers of Springfield meets Barley's Bar, Hamilton, in the winners' bracket.

The University of Colorado is the only newcomer to the Michigan State football schedule this fall.

Two Swimming Pool Life Guards Back in College for Football

Paul Grimm and Bill Campbell today had shifted from the water to the gridiron.

All summer they have been life guards at the swimming pool here; now they are back at Wittenburg College in Springfield and the University of Louisville getting ready for the football campaign this fall.

Like other college football players, they returned to school early to start practice before the fall term opens.

When they got notice to report for practice, they said they felt that their summer of swimming had kept them in "pretty good" condition physically—and they looked it, smooth muscled and bronzed as Indians by the summer sun.

Some football coaches, so it is said, do not encourage swimming as a conditioner for football because it takes off weight that often is needed. But, Grimm and Campbell looked as fit as race horses as they left for grid practice.

This will be Grimm's last year; it will be the first that Campbell will be eligible for varsity competition.

GRIMM, ONE OF the outstanding ends in WHS football history, has won two letters at Wittenburg. He started at his old familiar flank position, but last year the 6-foot-2-inch 185-pounder was shifted to tackle. He is 21 years old.

Grimm, besides being a regular on the football team, won a letter in track and is one of the mainstays of the Wittenburg diving-swimming team.

When he was a senior at Washington C. H. High School, Grimm received honorable mention when the all-state high school teams were selected. He also won two WHS letters in track.

He is majoring in physical education with a career in coaching in mind. His military status is 2-A, with service in prospect after graduation.

CAMPBELL, ALMOST the same size and build as Grimm, was graduated from WHS in 1949.

He entered Indiana University, of the Big Ten Conference, as a freshman. But transferred last year, when a sophomore, to the University of Louisville.

He earned his numeral as a member of the Indiana freshman squad and was out for football at Louisville last year. But, he was not eligible for varsity competition until this year, because of the rule barring first-year students.

In high school here, Campbell won letters in football, basketball and baseball as an all-round athlete.

He is taking a pre-medical course at Louisville.

Anderson To Play With Bucks While Still in Air Force

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5 —(AP)—Ohio State University's defensive problems at right end had a pleasant solution yesterday. Dick Anderson, last season's first stringer at that position, was on hand for the opening practice.

Anderson enlisted in the air force and was sent to the air cadet school in Texas after the 1950 season. Recently he was transferred to Lockbourne Air Base, a few miles from here. He told Ohio's new coach, Woody Hayes, he will be able to carry a full academic load, play football and handle his air force duties this fall.

The opening practice was devoted mainly to the news photographers. They had the Buckeyes charging, passing, and punting for hours.

The Bucks begin practice in earnest today.

Ohio opens Sept. 29 with Southern Methodist. Then come Michigan State, Wisconsin and Indiana.

"If we can get by the first four games, we ought to have a pretty good season," Woody said yesterday.

Hayes feels it is ridiculous to rate his team on top of the Big Ten. The fact he is introducing a "T" formation, to a team which has used the single wing is one of his reasons.

Also he points out only two men are back from the regular offensive line of last year, Bob Grimes and Julie Wittman.

Browns Upset By Young Lions

Strong Finish Made By Detroit Team

DETROIT, Sept. 5—(AP)—The old college try—that's what carried the young Detroit Lions to a 21-20 upset victory over the defending champion Cleveland Browns in a National Professional Football League Exhibition game last night.

Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions and his assistants agreed it was strictly "spirit" that brought the Lions from behind in Briggs Stadium to score all 21 points in a six-minute third quarter scoring spree.

Until then the Browns, unbeaten in two games, had been unscathed on this year and held a 13-0 lead. But after the Lions' spree the Browns didn't get back into actual contention until the very last second of play when they scored their final touchdown.

The Lions showed complete disregard for the vaunted passing arm of quarterback Otto Graham of the Browns. Halfback Bob Smith and end Leon Hart intercepted two of his passes and skipped down the sidelines unmolested for 29 and 20 yards and touchdowns.

IN THE SECOND half the hard-charging Lions' line, sparked by tackle John Prehlik and Hart, smothered Graham time after time before he could get the ball away.

Doak Walker, Southern Methodist halfback who paced the league in scoring as a rookie last year, danced over from the seven-yard line to end a five-play 49-yard drive for the other Lion score.

The Browns, who had beaten the College All-Stars 33-0 and the New York Yankees 52-0, drew a crowd of 35,165 for a gross gate of $117,393, biggest in the history of Detroit pro football.

Some This and That From Pro's Notebook

Although fall is in the air, there has been no let-up in golf interest or play at the Country Club here.

The Washington C. H. team is booked to play at the Wyandott Club in Columbus next Sunday in what probably will be its last out-of-town match of the season.

However, two more matches to be played here are in the making.

Ronnie Cornwell, who had been the club champion here ever since he came back from the army after the last war until Chuck Cummings dethroned him two weeks ago, is still quite some golfer. In the team event of the district tournament at Columbus last weekend, he shot a 73 and that was good enough to place him No. 3 on the individual scoring list.

THEY HAVE BEEN putting around this question at the Country Club: "Who has played the most golf here?" Tony Capana, the club pro, has nominated Stan Hagerty for the honor for three logical reasons: (1) He has been playing since 1922; (2) He plays every day during the regular golfing season and (3) he plays regularly long after most others quit in the fall and long before most others start in the spring. And, besides, he's still going strong and

THIS AND THAT from the pro's notebook:

Frank Truitt, Bloomingburg High School's basketball coach also is an outstanding golfer—as evidence by his 4-under-par 32 round last week. On that round, he sank a sand wedge shot on the No. 7 green from about 75 yards out for a bogie 2. Dick Korn, the
